George R. Gooding returned from Barstow this week and will resume his position as agent at the depot in a short time.

A. M. McDuffee, who has been looking after important business the past several months in Los Angeles, returned to Chloride last week.

Lessees on the Merrimac mine are making good wages from the ores now being extracted from that property. The ore is very rich in silver.

O. F. Kuencer returned a few days ago from Eldorado Canyon, where he has been looking after mining property which he is working under bond.

Peter Caffery came in from San Francisco Sunday last. He was there during the few days after the controlling of the great fire and says that the scenes to be witnessed were appalling.

Snow fell to quite a depth on Wallapai mountain last Saturday and Sunday. Some of the tenderest plants in and around Kingman were nipped by the frost, but none of the fruits were injured.

Axel Erickson and Thomas Kennedy are building a large sized oil tank at Chloride for Tarr & McComb. As soon as they have finished work on this tank they will build another for the Pinkham mine.

J. W. Gerritt went out to the Oro Plata mine with William O'Dea last Wednesday morning. O'Dea brothers have been at work getting the machinery in shape to start up work on that property within the next thirty days.

Mrs. F. E. Austin came in from Eldorado Canyon last Saturday and after visiting with George Dinely and family several days departed to her home in Pasadena. Mr. Austin remains at the Canyon as superintendent of the Wharton mines.

Maj. W. A. Mensch has been at the Enterprise mine arranging for the sinking of the shaft to the 300 level. This mine is one of the big properties of the county and with development below the oxidized zone should make a big copper producer.

A carload of ore was shipped through here this week to the smelter from the Altata mine, one from the Lucky Boy, one mixed car from several mines in the Chloride camp, and one from the Vanderbilt. The ore went to Humboldt and Needles.

Major Barry, of Los Angeles, arrived in Kingman Sunday last and departed Tuesday for Yucca where he was to meet a party of gentlemen and proceed to Bill Williams Fork, where they will look over some mining property in the county.

Dr. J. P. Wallace and a mining man visited the Burro mines this week. The Burro mine is one of the largest veins of gold-silver ore in the county and is situated on a stream of water from which power for the operation of mines and mill can be developed.

Joseph P. Dillon, of Prescott, deputy grand exalted ruler of the B. P. O. Elks, was in Kingman last evening and met with the local lodge. Mr. Dillon exemplified some of the work and talked interestingly on the scope and work of the order during the past year.

Hank Lefler came up from Needles a few days ago and is visiting with friends in Kingman. He reports that the solar engine is an entire success. The smaller engine is working steadily handling a large centrifugal pump. A new set of valves will have to be put in the larger engine and then it is expected it will run as smoothly as the smaller one. The pressure on the piston ranges from 130 to 180 pounds and gives the same power as steam power under the same conditions. When it has been thoroughly tried out the engine will be put on the market. It will be an immense advantage over the present generation of power for all purposes, as it is almost the same as perpetual motion. The gas is generated from sulphur dioxide, and in the daily run of the engine the loss is imperceptible.

Mrs. Lallah Woods has been taking the school census the past week.

Jack Little, owner of good mining property in the Cerbat section, is in Kingman.

W. R. Ridenour, the young Hackberry merchant, was in Kingman last evening on business.

Mrs. George R. Gooding has gone to Colorado Springs, where she will visit with relatives a month or more.

A sister of Miss Dora Titus arrived from Silver City, New Mexico, last night and will visit here some time.

Mrs. J. W. Emerson and daughter, Miss Jeanette Talbot, have gone to Los Angeles, where they will visit a few weeks.

Miss Bessie Carrow, who has been visiting in Flagstaff the past month, returned to her home in Kingman the first of the week.

Rev. F. C. Farr and family of Iowa, a brother of H. I. Farr, arrived in Kingman yesterday evening and will probably make this their home for several months.

Henry Lovin has put a number of new machines in his ice plant and bottling works and is now making all kinds of carbonated waters. His aerated waters are pure and delicious.

Mrs. John Musser has gone to Los Angeles to have her little boy treated for a dislocated knee. The little fellow was thrown from a horse a few weeks ago and his knee badly injured.

Miss H. Hill, stenographer for Tarr & McComb for the past six months, departed Tuesday last for Los Angeles. Miss Hill made many friends while in Kingman who are sorry to see her leave.

Last night the ladies of Kingman put up lunches for forty refugees on No. 8. Mr. Denair has issued an order to conductors to wire each day the number of refugees without means. Any lady in Kingman who is willing to aid in this good work will please report to this office at any time.

Mrs. J. T. Watkins departed Thursday evening to Watsonville, where she was called by the death of her father. Her parent's illness was not considered serious until Thursday it took a serious turn and death came in a few hours. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family.

George Abrams and W. E. Sauls have entered into partnership and have rented the George Building on Fourth street, in the rear of Watkins' drugstore, where they will practice dentistry. Mr. Abrams is said to be one of the best dentists in the business, while Mr. Sauls' ability is known to all the inhabitants of the country.

Kingman merchants have agreed on Sunday closing and beginning tomorrow none of the store will open their doors. This is a step in the right direction. People can get their Sunday supplies Saturday night just as well as on Sunday and the clerks will be able to enjoy the sabbath day in peace. We hope everyone will observe the compact strictly.

The Stockton Hill Mining company has purchased the old Moonbeam mining claim, at Stockton Hill, from Rod. McLean. It is the intention of the company to erect a mill on this ground for the purpose of reducing the ores from the Cupel and De la Fountain mines. A plant capable of handling 100 tons of ore daily will soon be erected and put in commission.

Thomas Brayil and family returned from San Jose last night. Mrs. Brayil and children had a narrow escape from death during the first great shock of earthquake, which destroyed much of San Jose and surrounding villages. They visited the ruins of San Francisco and Mr. Brayil secured many excellent photographs of the business part of the town. They say that every day sights in the relief camps of the city are heartrending. While the people are being taken care of in the best manner possible many are having a hard time of it.

For the best of dental work go to Sauls and Abrams.

The following letters remain uncalled for in the Kingman postoffice: Tom Bolton 2, Mrs. T. W. Piper, M. J. Florence, Thomas C. Gorrie.

William Gott, who has been making a tour of California, returned to Mineral Park Thursday last. He will pay a visit to relatives in that camp prior to returning to his home in Greensburg, Pa. Mr. Gott is interested in the Keystone and Queen Bee mines with J. Detar and James Uncapher.

Last Saturday afternoon Alfred Conkey, of Chloride, was called to Colorado Springs by the serious illness of his wife. It is to be hoped that the illness will not prove serious, as Mrs. Conkey is one of the most excellent and amiable ladies of the county. Her baby is but a few days old and is getting along nicely.

Lewis Davidson, one of the oldest inhabitants of Mineral Park, was in Kingman Wednesday last on important business. Mr. Davidson is the owner of the Baden-Baden mine at Mineral Park, upon which he has done an immense amount of work the past several years. The property is quite valuable, showing as it does big ore bodies of payvalues.

Dr. L. D. Godshall, resident director of the Arizona-Mexican Mining & Smelting company, came up from Needles this morning and departed to the Banner group of mines, Stockton Hill. He stated that it was his intention to blow in the smelter at Needles Monday next. Many improvements have been made at the plant and it is the purpose of the company to make a trial run and ascertain if everything is in shape after which ore buyers will be sent out and the smelter kept in continuous operation. The people of this county recognize the importance of this smelter and will make an extra effort to keep it supplied with the necessary ores to keep it in continuous operation.

A few evenings ago Capt. Casper Taylor was telling a party of friends of a narrow escape he had from losing his scalp, while making a stage trip between Rincon, N. M. and Silver City. It was in 1881 when the blood-thirsty Apache was ravaging southern New Mexico and Arizona. He had missed connection, by a fortunate accident, with the stage which proceeded the day before, and this stage had been ambushed and the driver and all on board killed. The Captain described in detail how the heavily armed party he was with made the uncertain trip, expecting every moment to hear the blood-curdling yells and swish of the poisoned arrows of the red demons. Among his auditors was County Treasurer Foster S. Dennis. As he proceeded with his tale, Mr. Dennis began to recognize familiar scenes and incidents, and when Capt. Taylor described a belted and booted mining man, armed to the teeth, who was braving the dangers to visit some placer fields in Arizona, Mr. Dennis dramatically made himself known as that one of the party in that memorable ride. It was a pleasant reunion. Although they had been intimately associated in Kingman for the past ten years, neither had recognized in the other his companion in those old Apache days.

Growing Aches and Pains.
Mrs. Josie Sumner, Bremond, Texas, writes April 15, 1902: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment in my family for three years. I would not be without it in the house. I have used it on my little girl for growing pains and aches in her knee. It cured her right away. I have also used it for frost bitten feet, very good success. It is the best liniment I ever used." 25c, 50c, 18. Sold by Watkins' drug store.
